Does San Diego offer contracting opportunities?

The City of San Diego offers direct access to bid and contracting opportunities for all its construction projects. Whether your business specializes in contracting, subcontracting, or consulting, you have the opportunity to collaborate with the City and contribute to its infrastructure and community development.

How big is San Diego's battery storage capacity?

Within the past five years, the state has grown its battery storage capacity by more than 15 times, up from just 770 MW in 2019. The project will help support the Marine Corps' largest West Coast expeditionary training facility, which encompasses more than 125,000 acres in San Diego County.

Is this the opening the energy storage industry was waiting for?

This project was the breakthrough the energy storage industry was waiting for. A year and a half after the decision, California utilities have deployed multiple long-duration storage applications, including installations from Tesla, AES, and Greensmith/AltaGas.

What is the long-duration energy storage project?

The project is the largest grant awarded under the Long-Duration Energy Storage Program, funded by Governor Gavin Newsom's historic multi-billion-dollar commitment to combat climate change. Investing in new technologies such as long-term energy storage will help California achieve its goal of a clean energy system by 2045.

What happened at Aliso Canyon gas storage facility?

The worst methane leak in United States history took Aliso Canyon gas storage facility offline. In response, California regulators issued a series of mitigation measures, including energy efficiency programs and an expedited approval process for energy storage projects.
